It's taken some time to for me to come to terms with this news. Jim Collins was my roommate sometimes in college and for a couple of years after we both graduated. I can't tell you how we became friends – but somehow it happened. That turned into puddle diving in Sunken Gardens, lots of Frisbee golf in the rain (sometimes from the rooftops of campus buildings....) "borrowing" golf carts, hanging out at "Be a Star Night" and way too many drinking games to remember (hey it was college in the 80's). It's hard to recall much of anything we did that didn't have fun as the ultimate goal. I'm good with folks once I know them, but getting to that point was very difficult for me in college – Jim dragged me around and introduced me to lots of the people with whom I remain friends to this day. As we both moved on with our lives we fell in and out of touch, but when we talked it was picking up the conversation like it was yesterday. All of those things people say after someone is gone "he was a great guy," "he was the nicest guy," they are true about Jim. My prayers go out for his family and friends, may you find comfort in the memories that you share.

For the past several months, Jim had been working as an In Home Support, caring for my son, Adam and his roommate. While there wasn't enough time to know Jim well, we knew Jim's heart - and that was to be kind, caring and supportive of our special needs son. For that, we are eternally grateful and thankful. In Matthew's Gospel, Chapter 25, I'm reminded of what Jim did for Adam and us. "Then the King will say to those on his right, 'Come, you who are blessed by my Father; take your inheritance, the kingdom prepared for you since the creation of the world. For I was hungry and you gave me something to eat, I was thirsty and you gave me something to drink, I was a stranger and you invited me in, I needed clothes and you clothed me, I was sick and you looked after me, I was in prison and you came to visit me.'" Then the righteous will answer him, 'Lord, when did we see you hungry and feed you, or thirsty and give you something to drink? When did we see you a stranger and invite you in, or needing clothes and clothe you? When did we see you sick or in prison and go to visit you?' The King will reply, 'Truly I tell you, whatever you did for one of the least of these brothers and sisters of mine, you did for me.' Thanking God for you, Jim Collins- Mark Deen, Father of Adam Deen

I worked with Jim for a few months at NicoPure Labs earlier this year and kept in touch with him in the months after we both moved on. Jim was a great guy -- funny, smart, always happy to help out...just a genuinely good person. I'm glad I got to know Jim in the past year -- and I'm sad he's no longer with us. My condolences to the family. Best, Mike Bracken

My deepest sympathy to all the Collins and Wootton families. I am so deeply saddened by the loss of Jim. Jim was a loyal friend, kind, funny, fun, adventurous and very wise. I have so many good memories of him, and I know he will never be forgotten. Jim, you were one of the good guys. My LMU years would not have been the same without you. Love you and miss you xoxo Mary (Parrillo) Wohl.
