I am stunned to learn of the loss of this very special woman, who knew no boundaries for the grace of her gift of caring for others. I only knew her a very short time and right away saw that she always put others first; truly feeling every emotion and care that they had and pledging to support them and care for them and reassure them as long as they needed her. I have prayed for her and now pray for her children, her family, and her loved ones. Now she can care for everyone as their very own angel.., rest easy sweet Yasmein. 🙏🌸❤️👤 Shannon Figley

To my Sweet Yazzie, I won't be able to say anything more special than anyone else, because you touched the heart of each and every person that encountered your infectious smile and your super special way of showing them care and making them feel like your very own family. You and I have some great secrets that we shared. I will always remember you, Lisa and myself as the 3 teens that had more laughs together in the toughest of times. I love you Yas and I always will. We became friends just at the right time and I am so happy and thankful for that gift! I hope that you heard me every visit, whisper "I love you" and when I told you, I'm in your corner no matter what! I hope you know that matter how it all turned out, you will live in my heart forevermore. God bless your sleeping heart and Bradley, your beautiful son, your dad, a solemn man and Myra, your mom, who I have witnessed to be one of the strongest women I've met. There is one more thing, Payton, your book buddy, says thanks for all the books you shared with him and he is thankful that you cared. Hey Yazzie, we will talk again, but in the meantime, I need to say to you..... "Job well done"
