Robert Smith lit a candle in honor of Robert.

Robert, was a friend of mine. We had many conversations during the time we knew one another about life's up and downs. During the time my Mother passed away, about 10 months before Robert did, he was there for me so a way no other friends were. For that I'll never forget him. We were actually planning a trip together and making arrangements when he passed away. I just recently learned of his passing and I am so very sorry for his dear Mother whom he spoke of often as well as his favorite son. I just can't believe this..... gone way too soon. May God bless his dear soul now and always. Robert Randall Smith.

What a gentle, kind soul. His actions are so telling of his gentleness. Few people plant milkweed to feed butterflies. Takes a sensitive and caring person. I am sorry for your loss Dr. Brooks and family.
